Final Scholarship Essay Question:

The final question for the Scholarship Essay:

“With the rapidly increasing population in the State of Texas comes the rapidly increasing demands on our groundwater resources. What conservation and management practices can the Evergreen Underground Water Conservation District employ to enhance the protection of this vital resource for all the water users in our district?”

Report on Monitor Well Program:

Landon Yosko said that the monitor wells in Atascosa County are completed, and he is now continuing the program into Wilson County. Mr. Yosko mentioned that he wants to place five wells in the outcrop focusing on the western portion of the county. Mr. Yosko showed on the map where he would like to put the monitor wells. Mr. Yosko said once locations have been determined then we will present the project to the Wilson County Commissioner’s Court for their approval.

Update on Education Program with Region 20:

Director Riggs mentioned that he spoke with a representative with Region 20 and they gave him different scenarios on what they do with schools and other entities. Director Riggs said that he let them know that we would like something by August and suggested having one of their representatives give a presentation at one of our meetings.

Landon Yosko mentioned that Dale Rankin, with the Atascosa County Extension Service, called and asked if the Evergreen would like to give a presentation at the South Texas Peanut Growers Association Annual Meeting. Mr. Yosko said he will prepare a presentation to present at the meeting.
